

Junior M&A Deal Reporter mergermarket

Company: mergermarket
Location: London, UK
Position Type: Employee
Employment type: Full time
Start Date: June 2010

mergermarket's research division is looking to hire an entry level Deal Reporter with strong foreign language skills to be based in London. mergermarket is a media company specialised in providing information and analysis for the mergers & acquisitions market.

The role will focus on tracking practitioners involved in mergers & acquisitions (M&A) within the EMEA region. Although not limited to this path, the role lends itself well to a full time investigative journalist position within mergermarket, covering origination intelligence on possible M&A transactions.

Duties and responsibilities include:

- Desk based research involving contacting corporate and advisory companies, primarily via telephone and email, to find out who worked in an advisory capacity on a transaction;
- Compiling detailed, accurate and presentable documentation of this information;
- Working towards deadlines on a daily/weekly/monthly basis for information submitted to external publications;
- Using knowledge gained of an assigned sector or geography to contribute to reports produced by mergermarket.

The ideal candidate will be of graduate level and must be fluent in speaking and reading at least one of the following languages: German, Spanish, Russian, Arabic and/or a Nordic language.

A degree in Journalism is a bonus but not essential. As well as being organised, personable and thorough, candidates should have a proven interest in the financial and M&A markets.

To apply, email your CV and covering letter to: careers@mergermarket.com, quoting reference "mm Research NC – Jun 10".

The Mergermarket Group is fully committed to a policy of non-discrimination and to promoting equality of opportunity in employment on grounds of merit, experience, skills and aptitude in order to maximise the full potential of both existing and prospective employees.
