

Xtract - Lawyer

XtractEurope has launched a high yield covenant research platform in Europe and is looking to expand this to loans.

We are seeking an experienced lawyer, admitted to practice in England, with significant expertise in drafting and reviewing credit agreements and/or high yield bonds. Substantial familiarity with jurisdictional issues throughout continental Europe is also important. Must be a self-starter capable of overseeing a team of lawyers and providing guidance on the structure of our reports. Ideal candidate will be very comfortable interacting with institutional investors/lenders and must be willing to assist in marketing and client meetings. This is a partnership level position and will include a base salary plus significant bonus potential based on growth of the service.

Xtract Europe is a division of Xtract Research, the leading provider of covenant and terms analysis for US Convertible, High Yield and syndicated Loans. The service is designed to provide institutional investors with access to high quality covenant reports prepared by a team of experienced finance lawyers, as well as providing access to a full library of source documents. Our proprietary technology platform enables clients to quickly compare covenants across various bonds and makes the process of covenant analysis more efficient.
